WHY CERVUS? A service built on people

All courses are delivered by experienced time served instructors who are passionate, committed and enthusiastic about training. All instructors have extensive military experience having served operationally all over the world in all environments.

Cervus Defence & Security Ltd can deliver courses either in the UK, or at a location more suited to the customer, deployable across the globe.

Saving lives still remains the driving force behind everything we do. Knowing the importance of training to suit the users' requirement, many of the courses can be tailored to fit within time scales and other restrictions.

CONCEPT OF TRAINING

The Cervus concept for training delivery is via bespoke packages to suit the customer's needs and operational requirements.

Modularised courses can be combined in order to form bespoke tailored training. We deliver training at the point of need.

PROSPECTUS OUTLINE

The modules included within this prospectus provide an overview of our typical training courses. All courses will be customised to suit the customer's needs therefore durations can be altered to accommodate requirements and the participant numbers stated should be considered a guide only.

- CIED/SEARCH & SECURITY COURSES

Search & Security courses are designed to provide technical and/or tactical training to front line personnel across the military and civil resilience spectrum in order to enable the prevention of, or reaction to terrorist or criminal activities. A number of courses require a pre-requisite level of training.

- SPECIALIST SKILLS COURSES

Specialist Skills courses are designed to equip individuals and small teams with the basic low level understanding and knowledge to manage living in austere environments and to be able to provide basic First aid lifesaving care.
